

BETA-52 SAFETY SOLVENT CLEANER

This product is a multi-purpose safety solvent designed for a variety of applications. It is non-flammable and has a high flushing action. High non-conductive properties make it ideal for use on electric motors even while energized. Safe on most metals including tin plate, aluminum, nickel, steel, zinc, magnesium, copper, brass and titanium. Due to BETA-52's powerful formula, certain plastics may be affected. Test prior to using.

Do not use on computers, data processing equipment, automatic electronic process controls, or monitoring systems. For these types of systems, use our FULL CONTACT or S.O.P., depending on individual need.
